Life Is A Song To Sing
experience it all everything, uncovering, discovering,
giving what you need the most.

The fragrance of life is sweet and luring, irresistible and charming, flirtatious and fleeting, daring you to try your wings.

Follow, with your heart in hand,
I understand,
the reasons why,
there's no need to cry,
you had to fly away.

Life Is A Song To Sing,
it's as fragile as a butterfly's wings, fluttering, fluttering, hold them and they cannot fly, hold them and they cannot fly away.

Mindful of the butterfly, we spread our wings through open skies, for every dream to realize,
you have to fly away.
